THE VOICE OF
MOTTINGHAM RESIDENTS' ASSOCIATION
FOUNDED 1932

SUMMER 2002

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

ALL CHANGE

It's all change at Mottingham Residents' Association. A number of long-serving officers have stepped down including the President Dave Edgar, the Chairman Mrs Mackway-Jones and the Secretary Marjorie Dartnell. Also stepping down is well-known local councillor Erny Dyer who received a special presentation at the Association's AGM in April.

Tributes were paid for the long and continuous service they had all given to Mottingham over the years. Happily Mrs Mackway-Jones and Marjorie Dartnell have agreed to remain on the Management Committee of the Association. Dave Edgar unfortunately is leaving Mottingham.

Into their places come Pat Winpenny as President, John Perkins as Chairman and Ross Howie as Secretary. Another new face is Gay Walker who was elected to the management committee.

There were more new faces among local councillors following the May elections. On Greenwich Council - John Hills, Dorothy Mepsted and Chris Taylor now represent the Coldharbour and New Eltham ward. Over in Bromley new member Roger Charsley joins up with sitting councillor Charles Rideout in the Mottingham and Chislehurst ward.

As for the future, your new officers will try to live up to the high standards set by their predecessors. Please don't hesitate to get in touch with them if there is an issue which you feel strongly about or a problem you want solved.

The Association exists to improve life for everyone in Mottingham and this remains as true today as it did when the association was first formed exactly 70 years ago in 1932.

John Perkins
Chairman

FROM BROMLEY COUNCIL

Councillor Charles Rideout writes:

As local residents we can either moan about the lack of policing in the area or do something about it. We all know the closure of Chislehurst police was highly regrettable and that the opening of the police hut in the car park next to the bank is a bit of a joke when you consider the few hours it is actually manned.

Well, you can grumble or you can do something constructive. The local police are looking for volunteers to help with the running of the police hut. Volunteers would be required to sit behind the desk and either give out information to the public or call the police if they are required. Full training will be given. If you are interested contact Chief Inspector Ragna Tulloch at Bromley Police station 8284 8793.

So let's stop groaning and help the boys and girls in blue with the full support of our local community. There may no longer be a smiling constable walking the local streets looking after our interests but there is a way of creating a link to our local bobbies - you and me !

(Councillor Rideout is also Chairman of the Bromley Community Safety Partnership).

RECENT ACTIVITIES

Are you aware how successful your association has been? Here are a few examples of our activities during the past year. We have helped to:

- * Prevent mobile telephone masts sprouting willy-nilly
- * Improve care of the playing field, street cleaning and the provision of waste bins
- * Defeat the proposed Kwik-Fit development
- * Frustrate the YMCA housing development
- * Protect the Green Belt

But to continue with this and other work WE NEED YOUR HELP. Our Road Stewards are the vital link between the local residents and our organisation, as it works to challenge inappropriate planning, improve policing and maintain its involvement in local community committees and groups, some of which are reported on in this newsletter.

The list at the back of this newsletter will show you which roads do not at present have a Road Steward. You do not have to live in the road you serve and some roads could be divided between two or even more Stewards, as is already done in some cases.

What is involved?

1. Collecting the subscriptions once a year and sending them to your

Section Leader. (This may involve making several visits as you will never find everyone at home at the same time). This is done as soon after the AGM in April as it can possibly be arranged. We are rather late this year due to the changes in the leadership of the executive committee.

2. Delivering the Autumn newsletter to members once a year.
3. Delivering the notices of the AGM to all residents in your road, members and non-members alike.

Can you spare about 5 to 10 minutes a year per household? Because that is all it takes. For more information contact Andrew Chklar on 8857 9440

TRADING PLACES!

Mottingham Horticultural Society is moving home - or moving sheds to be more precise. Having spent the last 14 years in Court Farm Road, the trading shed - used by hundreds of local gardeners - is moving to a new site in nearby Nunnington Close. Bromley Council has given permission for the shed to be moved onto the old allotment area currently being re-developed for housing and a children's play area. Part of the site is being retained for allotments and it's here the trading shed will be moved over the winter by members of the society

The Nunnington Road allotments are run by the Mottingham Allotments Guild whose own trading shed on the site was closed in 1990

Mottingham HS was set up just after the Second World War and its first trading shed was in Devonshire Road. In 1988 it had to quit the site and was given a new home at the rear of the bungalow at 15 Court Farm Road owned by Mr Clive Couldwell. Now it is having to move again for the third time in its history but trading secretary Terry Harvie is confident the new site will prove just as popular with local gardeners when it re-opens in the Spring of 2003.

GREENWICH BANK HOLIDAY COLLECTIONS

A word of warning to Greenwich householders who have their rubbish collected on a Monday. There will be no collection on Bank Holiday Monday- Aug 26. Instead Greenwich will be making collections on the previous SATURDAY - Aug 24. You have been warned !

GARDEN WASTE

Both Greenwich and Bromley Councils run special collection services for garden waste.

Greenwich's scheme, which is free, involves ringing a special number - 020 8921 4662 - and ordering one of their "RED TOP "bins. This will be delivered to your home within 7- 10 days. Greenwich will then make weekly collections on the same day your normal household rubbish is taken away.

Bromley run a slightly different scheme: householders buy Garden Waste Stickers at 60p a time which they stick onto plastic sacks containing their garden rubbish. To arrange collection you have to ring the Collection Hotline 0800 389 3804. Stickers are available by post from the Customer Services department at the Civic Centre in Stockwell Close or by calling in person at the main reception desk at the Civic Centre or at the ONYX Garden Waste Service in Baths Road, Bromley. Anyone with the old Cory garden waste stickers will have those honoured BUT sacks must then be put out for the regular refuse collections.

Both councils stress the service is for light garden rubbish such as grass cuttings, leaves and prunings and not for heavy items like tree branches. Bromley imposes a maximum weight per sack of 44 lb (20 kg).

WEB SITES

Both Bromley and Greenwich Councils run excellent web sites detailing all their various services.

Greenwich Council can be found on - www.greenwich.gov.uk

Bromley Council can be found on - www.bromley.gov.uk

PARKING CONTROLS LOOM

Hundreds of householders around Mottingham station could soon find themselves having to pay for residents' permits to park outside their own home.

The scheme is currently being considered by Greenwich as a way of coping with the expected flood of commuters parking in Mottingham to catch their trains from the station and avoid paying Mayor Livingstone's £5 a day congestion charge due to come into force in central London next year.

The area affected runs from Middle Park Avenue, Tarnwood Park and Woodmere in the north, West Hallowses, Luxfield Road and West Park in the west, Mottingham Road to the south and Chapel Farm Road to the east

Earlier in the year Greenwich Council sent out a questionnaire listing various options and asking for residents' views. There was a higher response than expected (38%) and in some roads "voting" was 60-40 in favour of some controls.

Among the options are a maximum waiting period of 2 hours (this is already in operation around East Greenwich and Charlton stations); alternatively there could be permit holders only parking at certain times of the day. Around New Eltham Station only local residents can park between 9.30 and 11 00.

Greenwich will now draw up plans which should be available for public viewing before Christmas. They also intend establishing local area forums to test public opinion. Mottingham Residents' Association has already asked to be involved in this process.

One thing which is certain is that if a controlled parking scheme is introduced residents will have to pay for the privilege. The charge is likely to be between £11 and £30 a year.

SPOT THE POLICEMAN

The Metropolitan Police are planning a "high visibility" day in Eltham early in September and want your ideas. Approximately 120 officers will be deployed in the area on the day and the new head of the Eltham Division, Inspector Mick Hunt, would like to hear your suggestions as to the best places for them to be seen. You can contact him at Eltham Police Station on 8853 1212 or by fax on 8282 5690.

POLICE COMMUNITY CONSULTATIVE GROUPS.

Police Community Consultative Groups came into being after the Brixton riots to give members of the public independent access to the senior police officers in their borough. Funding comes direct from the Metropolitan Police Authority and not from any police or politically motivated agency.

The BROMLEY Consultative group is also attended by local MPs and councillors and so provides a welcome opportunity to cover more than just police matters and to encourage co-operation by all parties. For this reason Bromley is seen as a role model for other groups in London.

Bromley meetings this year have included talks from the Drug and Rehabilitation Services and local magistrates. Meetings begin at 7.45 pm and usually end around 9.30 p.m. Venues are chosen with consideration to public and private transport. Free tea, coffee and biscuits are supplied

The next two meetings this year will be:

Wed 18th September: The Outreach Centre, 64 Cotmandene Crescent, St Paul's Cray.

Tues. 12th November: Royston Primary School, High Street, Penge (near Kent House Station).

If you are interested in further details please contact the group's secretary on 020 8658 7168, or by post at BPCCG, PO Box 34, Beckenham, Kent BR3 4ZN

Terry Scovell,
Chairman, Bromley C.P.C.G.

Unfortunately GREENWICH residents are not so well served. The Greenwich PCCG has had its funding frozen, and its meetings suspended while the MPA tries to re-establish a workable system that will allow the group to reform. The local group in Eltham has, however, been allowed to continue and its meetings at St Mary's Community Centre in Eltham High Street are well attended and constructive.

Eltham's meetings this year have included talks from the Head of Greenwich Police, Chief Supt. Sharon Kerr, a senior member of the Greenwich Parks and Open Spaces department and a representative from Homesafe, an organisation which advises on safety in the home.

Meetings are on the second Monday of alternative months at 7:30 pm at St. Mary's Community Centre, 180 Eltham High St. The next meetings are on the 9th September and the 15th November.

John Perkins

CRIME NOTES

- * Always report crime. The biggest problem faced by police in Greenwich and Bromley is non-reporting of crime. If the police do not know of problems they cannot act. If crimes are not reported then statistics compiled by senior officers can make it look as if crime is falling and policing could be reduced as a result.
- * In an emergency ALWAYS call 999. For other matters or local issues please use the numbers at the back of this newsletter.
- * Beware bogus water board officials. The water board rarely sends people to visit homes without prior arrangement but, amazingly, their official ID cards do not contain a contact number to enable you to check on the identity of the caller. The advice is to send them away until a confirmed appointment can be arranged. This will encourage the water board to correct this appalling lapse in security and stop any opportunist thief taking advantage of you.
- * Mark property with ultra violet marker pens. Write your door number and post code. To make it easier for police to arrest burglars police car key fobs are now being fitted with ultra violet key-ring lights so that property can be quickly checked in the street to see if it's stolen.
- * Take advantage of a new scheme in Greenwich to fit locks free of charge. 'Homesafe' are able, in some parts of Eltham, to install free locks and fire alarm equipment. They hope to have funding by September to extend this to all of Greenwich. Anybody in the Greenwich borough should contact Jane at 'Homesafe' on 020 8855 8488 for details. If they cannot attend now you will go on a list and will be contacted at a later date.

GREENWICH PLANNING

Most of the significant planning applications this year have been for the erection of radio masts for mobile telephone services, each suggested site being less acceptable than the previous one. The latest was on the grass in front of the Porcupine Close houses fronting Mottingham Road. Your Association added its collective voice to those of local individuals and the application was refused.

The latest request is for permission to replace the sixteen garages behind the shops in the Phillips and Dear block with dwelling accommodation. No plans are yet available as it is only for outline permission, but the Executive Committee are opposing the move as access to the new premises will be difficult and the shops which use the garages for storage will have great difficulty in finding alternative space.

BROMLEY PLANNING

A developer has applied for permission to demolish 58 Mottingham Road (the house next to the Methodist Church on the corner of Dorset Road) and to replace it with a three storey block containing six two-person apartments. The Association has objected on the grounds that it would overshadow the church and that there is inadequate parking provision.

Bits and Pieces -

- * There are now cash machines at the Post Office and Costcutter shop in Mottingham as well as the BP garage.
- * Three new wastebins have been installed on Mottingham Road after pressure from the Association. Two bins at the bottom of Court Road have also been replaced.
- * Warrs, a Harley-Davidson motorcycle dealership, has moved into the former Honda garage by the War Memorial. The Association had successfully challenged an application from Kwik Fit to take over the premises.
- * Bromley council is offering rewards of up to £500 to residents who give information on environmental crimes, such as graffiti, fly tipping and car dumping, which leads to a successful prosecution. Ring 8313 4557 or visit the council website www.bromley.gov.uk and go to E for environment.

CONGRATULATIONS . . .

. . . to Committee member Tanya Scovell, who has just been awarded a degree in Psychology by Greenwich University.

POSTAL SERVICE

Fed up with your postal service? The man to complain to if you live in Greenwich is Richard Coleman, Officer in Charge, Eltham Post Office, 33 Court Yard, London SE9. Tel 8850 1504. If you're not satisfied with the response you can write to POSTWATCH (Greater London Area) 28-30, Grosvenor Gardens, London SW1W 0TT or telephone 08456 013265.

MOTTINGHAM CHRISTMAS TREE ?

Mottingham Traders Group, which already funds the Christmas lights in the village, is thinking of adding a Christmas Tree to the decorations this year. They are talking with the Methodist Church in Mottingham Road about siting it in front of the church. All costs are met by local traders who would welcome any donations or contributions from individuals or local groups. Contact the Traders Group Chairman, Steve Brown, at Sebrons.

A SNIPPET OF HISTORY

Arthur Green, who died last year at the age of 96, was a boy at Eltham College from 1913 to 1922 and lived with his parents in Avondale Road. In a letter to the Old Elthamian magazine he records this incident:

"I remember particularly Mr Burleigh who came in 1914 and taught Chemistry. During World War One we had a cow tethered in the front field to keep the grass grazed when they could not use a mower. One afternoon Burleigh was going out when he saw the cow making for the gate, trailing its tether behind it. He managed to grab the end of the rope, but the cow took off, towing him behind it. He was dragged up into the village where, just by Loosely's shop, he produced a sprint and got a turn round a lamp-post, which brought the beast to a standstill. He made it fast, then beat a hasty retreat, alarmed that the Misses Loosely might see him." Does anyone know which shop was run by the Misses Loosely? And what was their reaction, one wonders, when they found someone had illegally parked a cow outside their premises?

David Jones,
Archivist, Eltham College

GARDEN NOTES

The following conversation is reported to have taken place between St Francis and the Almighty:

- Tell me, Frank, you're into nature study and all that, what is going on down there? What has happened to all those dandelions and thistles and stuff I put down there aeons ago? I had a perfect no-maintenance plan. Those plants grow in any kind of soil, withstand drought and multiply with abandon. The nectar from the long-lasting blossoms attracted butterflies, honey-bees and flocks of songbirds, but all I see there now are those green rectangles.

- It's the tribes that settled there, Lord, the Suburbanites. They started calling your plants weeds and went to great lengths to kill them off and replace them with grass.

- Grass? But it's so boring. It's not colourful, it doesn't attract butterflies birds and bees, only grubs and worms, and it's temperamental with temperatures. Do these - er - Suburbanites really want all that grass growing there?

- Apparently so, Lord. They go to great pains to grow it and keep it green. Each spring they fertilize it and poison any other plant that tries to grow in their lawns.

- Well, the Spring rains must make it grow really fast. That must make the Suburbanite happy.

- Apparently not, Lord. As soon as it grows a little they cut it; sometimes twice a week.

- Cut it? Do they bale it like hay?

- Not exactly, Lord. Most of them rake it up and put it in bags

- They bag it? Why? Do they sell it?

- No, just the opposite. They pay to have it taken away.

- Now let me just get this straight. They buy fertilizer to make the grass grow, and then they cut it down and pay to have it taken away.

- Exactly.

- Then they must be relieved in the Summer when we cut back the rain and turn up the heat. That must slow the grass and give them less work.

- You aren't going to believe this, Lord. When the grass stops growing so fast they drag out their hoses and pay more money to water it so they can continue to mow it and pay to get rid of it.

- It's a good thing I know you're an honest man, Frank. At least they kept some of my trees. That was a sheer stroke of genius, even though I say it myself. The trees grow leaves in the Spring to provide beauty and shade in the Summer, then in the Autumn the leaves fall to the ground and form a natural blanket to keep moisture in the soil and protect the trees and bushes. Then as they rot they form compost to enrich the soil. Brilliant!

- You'd better sit down, Lord. The Suburbanites have drawn a new cycle. As soon as the leaves fall they rake them into great piles and have them hauled away.

- No! Then what do they do to protect the shrub and tree roots in the Winter and keep the soil moist and loose?

- They go and buy something they call mulch. They haul it home and spread it round in place of the leaves.

- And where do they get this mulch?

- They cut down trees and grind them up.

- Enough!
